

Young Match Official Resources.

The recruitment, retention and support of young people is vital as young match officials fulfil a role requiring leadership, management, communication skills and high level interpersonal skills, all which will help to secure the future of the game.

If you have already completed the England Rugby Mentoring Award, accessed the Developing the Developer modules or have a professional coaching or mentoring qualification, is a great starting point. This provides you with a great understanding of self, and how you can best use enhanced communication and intra-personal skills to support others, as part of their personal growth and development.

Below are a number of links that provide information that highlight how to engage and support young people with their development and growth.

Sport England

Children and young people

UK Coaching

What Motivates Young People to be Active?

Engaging Young People in Volunteering –

Recruit & Retain Volunteers

Young Volunteer Engagement Toolkit

Engaging More Young People in Volunteering \(Toolkit\)

National Community of Voluntary Organizations -

Engaging and supporting young people to volunteer

Helpful Links to additional information.

- Community First Young Volunteers handbook
- Involving volunteers help and guidance
- Good practice in volunteer management training
- Safeguarding essentials in charities training
- NSPCC safeguarding resources for voluntary and community groups